1. About Jíjé and these Terms

These Terms of Service ("Terms") govern access to and use of the Jíjé website at jije.ca, Jíjé applications, related customer marketplace services, and public interest or application forms (together, the "Platform"). The Platform is operated by Jíjé Group Inc. ("Jíjé," "we," "us," or "our").

When you create an account, submit a form, place an order, or otherwise use an interactive Platform feature, these Terms apply to that use. Please do not use the relevant service if you do not agree. Our Privacy Policy explains our handling of personal information; acknowledging it is not the same as agreeing to receive marketing messages.

These Terms cover website visitors, potential vendors and delivery applicants at the initial interest stage, and customers using marketplace services where available. Approved vendors and delivery providers are also subject to separate agreements where applicable. A separate agreement or specific purchase terms may govern a particular activity; if a conflict exists, the more specific terms apply to that activity, subject to applicable law.

A description of a feature in these Terms does not mean that the feature is currently available in every location or has already launched.

2. What the marketplace does

Where marketplace ordering is available, Jíjé enables customers to discover and purchase groceries, prepared meals, and other permitted products offered by participating independent merchants ("Vendors"). Unless clearly identified otherwise at checkout under a lawful arrangement, the relevant Vendor is the seller of record for its products and is responsible for its descriptions, pricing, stock, preparation, packaging, quality, food safety, and legal compliance.

Jíjé provides marketplace technology and may facilitate payments, support, pickup, and delivery through delivery providers or logistics partners. Except where expressly stated, Jíjé does not manufacture, prepare, own, or take title to Vendor products.

Where the functionality exists, an order may include items from more than one Vendor. Each Vendor remains responsible for its portion, although checkout, support, or delivery may be coordinated.

3. Eligibility and accounts

Customer services are intended for people aged 16 or older who have legal capacity to use them or any additional permission required by applicable law. Driver interest applications are intended for adults aged 18 or older. A person submitting information on behalf of a business must be authorized to do so.

You agree to provide accurate information, keep login credentials confidential, and notify Jíjé promptly if you suspect unauthorized access. You are responsible for activity on your account except to the extent caused by Jíjé's own failure to meet its legal obligations. Reasonable checks may be required to prevent fraud or misuse.

4. Vendor and driver interest applications

The "List Your Business," "Start Delivering," and other partnership forms let people register interest in working with Jíjé. Submission is only an inquiry or application: it is not approval, a binding vendor listing, an offer of employment, a guarantee of delivery assignments or earnings, or a commitment by Jíjé to enter into a commercial relationship.

We may contact applicants to clarify information, review eligibility, discuss service-area availability, or invite them to a later onboarding stage. Applicants should provide accurate and current information and should not submit government identification numbers, banking credentials, or identity documents through general interest forms unless separately directed through an appropriate secure process.

Before a Vendor begins selling or a delivery provider begins accepting assignments, additional checks, disclosures, and a separate agreement may be required. Applicable statutory worker protections are not limited by these Terms.

5. Product listings and food information

Vendors supply or approve product details, ingredients, allergen information, photographs, quantities, availability, and prices. Listings can change, and images may be illustrative where this is accurately disclosed. Jíjé may format Vendor-supplied information for Platform display.

If you have allergies, dietary restrictions, or food-safety concerns, review the listing and contact the Vendor or Jíjé before ordering. An unlisted allergen should not be taken as proof that a product is allergen-free. Nothing here limits food-safety duties or consumer rights imposed by law.

6. Prices, fees, taxes, and payments

Where transactions are available, the checkout will show the applicable product prices and additional charges before an order is submitted, including any delivery fee, service fee, tip, and taxes where applicable. Vendors generally determine their product prices; promotions or discounts may have separately disclosed conditions.

By confirming an order, you authorize the displayed charge using the payment method you select, subject to any payment authorization or anti-fraud check. Payment processing and the parties responsible for collecting or remitting applicable taxes will follow the arrangement disclosed at checkout and any legally required information. Jíjé may use third-party payment processors and does not ask customers to provide complete payment card details through general recruitment forms.

Nothing in these Terms limits legitimate chargeback rights or statutory consumer protections.

7. Orders, acceptance, and unavailable items

Placing an order is a request to purchase the selected items. The Platform will indicate whether and when the order has been confirmed or accepted; the exact workflow may vary by Vendor, order type, or feature. An order is subject to payment authorization, fraud controls, operating hours, product availability, and applicable restrictions.

Please review quantities, items, delivery or pickup details, substitution preferences, and contact information before submitting. If an item is unavailable, we or the Vendor may contact you about alternatives. We will not substitute an item without an authorization permitted by your selected preferences or applicable law.

An order or part of an order may be cancelled or adjusted for a genuine operational, payment, safety, fraud, or legal reason, subject to any notices, refunds, and consumer rights required by law.

8. Scheduled and multi-vendor orders

If the Platform makes scheduled ordering available, an order may be recorded in advance for a stated preparation, pickup, or delivery window. Displayed windows are estimates unless expressly identified as guaranteed and remain subject to operating hours, capacity, stock, and payment verification.

If multi-vendor ordering is available, the order may involve different preparation times or pickup locations. A problem with one Vendor's portion does not necessarily require cancellation of all portions. Where practicable, we will explain material changes, charges, and refunds relating to the affected items.

9. Delivery and customer pickup

Delivery or pickup may be offered only in selected locations, for eligible products, and subject to distance, operating hours, courier availability, weather, traffic, access restrictions, and other operational considerations. Availability, fees, and choices presented during checkout govern the options for a particular order.

Preparation and arrival times are estimates unless a specific guarantee is expressly stated. Customers must provide a complete, accessible delivery address, accurate contact details, and reasonable delivery instructions, and must be available where the delivery process requires their participation.

If a delivery attempt fails because contact or access is unavailable or information is inaccurate, the process and any charges or refunds will be explained through the applicable order support and disclosed policies, subject to law. Perishable goods may not be eligible for return or redelivery. Pickup instructions will be displayed where customer pickup is available.

10. Cancellations, refunds, and problems with orders

For a change or cancellation request, contact Jíjé through the support method made available for the order as soon as possible. Available cancellation options may depend on preparation status, product type, and mandatory legal rights. Material cutoffs or non-refundable charges will be disclosed before purchase wherever required.

If something is missing, incorrect, damaged, unsafe, significantly different from its description, or not delivered, promptly contact support and include the order details. We may request reasonably necessary information to investigate and coordinate an appropriate refund, replacement, correction, or other remedy.

For an order involving multiple Vendors, a refund may relate to the affected Vendor's portion rather than the entire order, depending on the circumstances and applicable law. Voluntary credits are separate from remedies required by law. Nothing in these Terms excludes or restricts a statutory remedy or right that cannot lawfully be waived.

11. Reviews and content you provide

If the Platform permits reviews, ratings, images, or comments, do not post anything unlawful, deceptive, discriminatory, harassing, infringing, or defamatory, and do not reveal another person's private information without authorization.

You retain rights to content you create. You grant Jíjé a non-exclusive, worldwide, royalty-free licence to host, display, reproduce, and reasonably adapt that content for operation, moderation, and promotion of the Platform, subject to applicable privacy law and your permissions. We may remove content that violates these Terms or law.

12. Acceptable use

Do not commit fraud, impersonate others, misuse promotions, interfere with the Platform or its security, seek unauthorized access, circumvent access controls, scrape protected data without authorization, threaten customers, Vendors, or drivers, or use the Platform for unlawful activity.

13. Intellectual property

Jíjé and its licensors retain rights in the Platform, its software, design, brand assets, and proprietary technology. Vendors and other third parties retain rights to their respective marks and materials. Subject to compliance with these Terms, we grant you a limited, revocable, non-exclusive permission to use the Platform for its intended lawful purposes. No intellectual property rights transfer to you.

14. Privacy and communications

Our Privacy Policy describes the personal information we collect and how it is used, shared, retained, and protected. We may contact customers about accounts, orders, security, customer support, or policy updates, and contact vendor or driver applicants about their applications and related onboarding steps.

Application-related communications do not automatically enroll applicants in a promotional mailing list. Commercial marketing messages will be sent only when permitted by applicable law and will provide the identification and unsubscribe information required by law.

15. Third-party services and links

The Platform may link to third-party websites or use independent service providers for functions such as forms, hosting, payments, mapping, and communications. Third-party sites have their own terms and privacy practices. Where Jíjé engages a service provider to process personal information on its behalf, its handling of that information is addressed in our Privacy Policy and applicable arrangements.

16. Service availability and account restrictions

We may update, maintain, restrict, or suspend Platform features or service areas for legitimate operational, legal, safety, or security reasons. We may restrict access for reasonably suspected fraud, serious misuse, threats to safety, or material violation of these Terms, with notice where appropriate and practicable. This does not affect rights that cannot legally be restricted.

17. Responsibility and service limitations

Vendors are responsible for the products they sell and their applicable legal obligations. Delivery providers may have responsibilities for their conduct during deliveries. Jíjé remains responsible for its own conduct, obligations, and liabilities imposed by law; describing another party as independent does not remove Jíjé's legal responsibilities.

To the extent allowed by applicable law, Platform access may be interrupted and delivery times are not guaranteed unless expressly stated. Nothing in these Terms excludes mandatory warranties, consumer protections, worker rights, or liability that cannot be excluded by law.

18. Changes to these Terms

We may update these Terms to reflect changes in the Platform, operations, or legal requirements. The most recent version will be posted with an updated date. We will provide additional notice or obtain consent where the law requires it. Changes will not retroactively remove rights concerning completed transactions.

19. Disputes and governing law

Please contact admin@jije.ca with a question or complaint so we can attempt to resolve it. These Terms are governed by the laws of Ontario and the applicable federal laws of Canada, without removing any mandatory rights under other laws that apply to you. Nothing requires arbitration or waives access to a court or tribunal where such a requirement or waiver is prohibited.
